HOW TO GET YOUR STORAGE BUILDING

1 RESEARCH ZONING CODES

Most buildings require permits, especially for residents in a town or city where there are often restrictions on size, color, or placement of a building. Visit our building permits page, dakotastorage.com/building-permits, to find what is required in your area.

This is a standard agreement between you, the customer, and us, Dakota Storage Buildings. The agreement must be signed before production and delivery or on-site construction can begin.

4 PREPARE A LEVEL FOUNDATION

The storage building foundation must be ready before delivery or on-site construction can begin. Laying a solid foundation often requires building a frame, filling in the framed area with a base material, leveling the base so that it's perfectly even, and compacting the base material. ## 5 GET READY FOR DELIVERY OR ON-SITE CONSTRUCTION.

All of our buildings can be built on-site rather than delivered. When you choose the on-site construction, all specifications of the building stay the same. We prefabricate the building in our shop and then transport the sections to complete on site. Additional fees apply. To learn more, visit dakotastorage.com/on-site-construction.
